Panhellenic Rushing Rules Effective September 28

Under the Panhellenic rushing rules, this is the last week that freshmen may visit sorority houses or upperclassmen may visit freshmen dorms.

Starting Sept. 28, two days before the Panhellenic Tea, until Jan. 11, no visiting will be allowed between sorority members and freshmen.

The Panhellenic Tea gives all freshmen an opportunity to visit each of the sorority houses on campus before invitational rushing begins.

No rushing is scheduled until the open weekend of Jan. 11 to Jan. 13. During this weekend, freshmen may accept invitations to visit the sorority houses, to attend university functions, go downtown, or go to the Nest with a sorority member.

Next stage of the new rushing system will be a week of concentrated rushing following the distribution of grades. Freshmen must register in Dean Currier's office in order to be rushed. Invitations to these open houses will be handled through Dean Currier's office.

Following this rush week will be a series of two informal parties at the houses, to which freshmen may be invited.

The final stage of actual rushing, before bids are signed, is the formal parties, to which a freshman may accept three invitations.

Following these formal parties, preferences will be signed by the freshmen, and pledges taken by the groups.

Priorities Current Block In Student Union Planning

The National Production Agency is the current major block in the plans for the proposed new Student Union, according to Senate Committeeman, Earl Nissen.

NPA's priority on all building, the critical situation in obtaining materials, and the hiring of a contractor are the three major problems obstructing plans for the Union.

In the meantime a joint committee of University trustees, administrators, faculty, and students is being formed to plan the management of the Union.

Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, new University president, is expecting to go to Washington soon to negotiate with NPA officials about the Union's building priority.

Journalism Labs Meet

Students enrolled in Journalism Lab 206 or 306 are required to be present at a meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 26 in 315-A at 7 p. m.

Varsity Cheerleaders Picked For Squad

Three new regular members and six junior varsity cheerleaders have been selected by a committee composed of last year's varsity group.

Phyllis Neher, Bill Melvin, and John Cold will join Beverly Hocking, Nancy Kaufman, and Barry Siegel on the regular varsity team. Siegel is head cheerleader.

New junior varsity members are Virginia Anderson, Mary Lou Jolley, Barbara Bassett, Don Weir, and Don Miller. These students will cheer for special events such as homecoming.

ATOs Schedule Traditional Dad's Day Program Oct. 6

October 6 has been set for the fifth annual Dad's Day, sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Bill Ensign, chairman of the event has emphasized that "Dad's Day is an all-campus affair."

All students are encouraged to invite their dads here for that day, and all organizations are encouraged to plan programs for their fathers.

Bowling Green will play Mount Union in a football game that afternoon. At half-time ceremonies a trophy will be presented to the "Football Dad of the Year."

Chosen by the varsity football team, "Dad of the Year" is always the father of a member of the squad. Paul Bonfiglio was the honored father last year.

Breakfast for the football team and their fathers at the Nest in the morning will highlight a welcome by President Ralph W. McDonald.

Fathers of ATO's will be entertained at a banquet that evening.

Dave Schafer and Ensign are co-chairmen of the event. Committee members are Ed Grover, Ray Liedlick, Herb Barr, Bud Shanks, Ray Van Horn, and Bud Imber.

Science Manuscript Contest Announced

The Ohio Journal of Science will award $150 for the outstanding original research paper by a member of the Ohio Academy of Science's chemistry section.

Manuscripts must be submitted by next January 1, and announcement of the winner will come at the Academy's 1952 meeting.

Details on the award may be obtained from the editor-in-chief of the Ohio Journal of Science, Prof. Earl L. Green, a member of the zoology and entomology faculty at Ohio State University.

Library Addition Nearly Finished

Construction work on the library addition is progressing favorably, according to Dr. Paul F. Leedy, University librarian.

Masonry work is almost complete on the two-story building. Construction was delayed in its early stages by structural steel shortages and later by the theft of terra cotta used as exterior wall facing.

When completed, the building will provide an additional study room, a microfilm room, a research room and two seminar rooms for graduate students, and a new office for the catalog department as well as stack space for a maximum of 87,000 volumes.

University Charity Group Plans Drive For Oct. 6-13

Revisions In Class Attendance Rules Released By Dean

Revisions in the attendance regulations have been recently approved by the Executive Committee of the Faculty. The rules in part are as follows:

Absences from class may be excused in case of death in the immediate family, for trips in connection with participation in authorized university activities, or for serious illness certified to the Dean of Students by the University Physician. Students are required to report illnesses to the Student Health Service.

Absences from class (excused or unexcused) are based on the following scale:

Meetings per Week	Absences

If a student exceeds the above number of absences, he is automatically dropped from the course. When the student is so dropped, he may petition the Dean of Students for a permit to return to class. Under unusual circumstances the permit may be granted.

Absences immediately preceding or following regularly scheduled vacations count double.

When a student is dropped from a course for excessive absences, and fails to obtain reinstatement, a mark of WF will be recorded.

The two basic changes are (1) the elimination of the $1 overcut fee and (2) consideration of both excused and unexcused absences instead of merely unexcused as before.

The above attendance regulations apply to all students except sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have a point average of 3.0 or above. Upon recommendation of one of the academic deans, Dean of Students, Dean of Women, or instructor, a student who appears to be taking undue advantage of this privilege will be removed from the Dean's List.

A student on probation will be allowed no unexcused absences.

Students, when absent from class for excusable reasons, will apply to the Dean of Students for a class entrance permit.

Nissen, Gruner Head Committee

This year's Charity Drive, headed by Earl Nissen and Nancy Gruner, will be held October 6-13, with a schedule of events designed to interest the student body.

Money received from the drive will be allocated to the World Student Service Fund, Heart Association of America, Cancer Fund, Infantile Paralysis Foundation, T. B. fund, Red Cross, and $400 will be used to support a displaced person on this campus. The exact percentage of allocation going to each organization will be disclosed later. Two representatives from each Several important positions are still open on the Charity Drive Committee. Applications may be picked up in the President's office and must be returned there by 4 p. m. Thursday.

sorority and fraternity, MIS and WIS, and four representatives from the men's and women's dormitories will meet this week with the Charity Drive Committee to receive instructions regarding the aim of the drive and the collecting of contributions.

An introductory news-letter, "The Charity Special" was sent to residence houses this week explaining the Drive.

Tamara Mawrizki, from Germany, who is to be supported by last year's fund for a displaced person, is expected to arrive in Bowling Green soon. A room and a job are being held for her in Williams Hall.

Deadline Set For Registration In 1951 Elections

Tomorrow is the last day to register for voting in this year's elections, according to officials of the Board of Elections, at the Court House.

Students who want to vote here but have registered in another town, must send to the town in which they are registered for the necessary applications and ballots, before they can vote.

Faculty members and students who declare Bowling Green as their home town must register at the Court House before tomorrow night in order to vote in the coming elections.

New President Is Educational Leader

Dr. Ralph W. McDonald brings to the presidency of Bowling Green State University a record in education and leadership equaled by few men in his field.

The new president resigned as executive secretary of the Department of Higher Education in the National Education Association, a position which he held for seven years, in order to accept a five-year contract at Bowling Green. He was unanimously elected by a faculty committee and the Board of Trustees to succeed Dr. Frank J. Prout, who retired Sept. 1.

Dr. McDonald, who is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, was on the faculty and administrative staff of the University of North Carolina for four years before moving to Washington.

His degrees include doctor of philosophy and master of arts from Duke University, and bachelor of arts from Hendrix College in Conway, Ark. He attended law school at the University of North Carolina as preparation for educational administration and public service, later becoming a member of the North Carolina legislature.

A great deal of the 48-year-old president's leadership has been at the national level. Since 1945 he has been president of the National Committee on Atomic Information, and has testified before several Congressional committees on matters affecting higher education.

He is editor of the College and University Bulletin and the Journal of Teacher Education. In the NEA he was also executive secretary of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards.

For several years he has been in charge of the National Conference on Higher Education, which is held in Chicago each spring, and an annual summer conference on teacher education.

Dr. McDonald has a background in teaching that enables him to better understand the problems of education. He taught high school mathematics at Fort Smith, Ark., for one year, and served as principal of the Sunnyside Consolidated schools at Fayetteville, N. C. for three years.

In 1928-34, he was head of the department of psychology and education at Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C. At Duke he was successively a teaching fellow, summer session instructor, and visiting professor. At the University of North Carolina, Dr. McDonald held three positions at the same time. He was associate director of the extension division, graduate professor of education, and head of the radio department.

Dr. McDonald, who is married and has a married daughter, was born March 1, 1903, in Gallatin County, Ill. He was graduated from high school in Paragould, Ark., in 1919.

His wife, the former Athleen Taylor of Arkansas, was a first grade teacher until a few years ago. Their daughter is Mrs. John M. Haygood of Alameda, Cal.

Dr. and Mrs. McDonald are not members of Greek letter social organizations, though Dr. McDonald is sympathetic with college fraternities.

At Hendrix, Dr. McDonald majored in economics, English, and mathematics; while at Duke his major area of specialization was educational psychology.

North Carolina lost a valuable man when Dr. McDonald moved to Washington. He formerly was president of the North Carolina Education Association, president of the Education Organization of the South, North Carolina chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and North Carolina chairman of the Liberal Arts College movement.

While in college, he was the first president of the Alpha Tau chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, honor society in education. He is an associate member of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, an honorary member of the North Carolina Grange, and an honorary life member of the North Carolina State Federation of Labor.

The president's memberships include the American Association of School Administrators, American Political Science Association, Methodist Church, National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, Pi Gamma Mu (social science society) and the Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology.

The NEWS will be free to print all matters of interest to the student body, as long as such material meets the ethical standards of the best newspapers, and will make every effort to make coverage as complete, fair, and accurate as possible.

'Swing It Shakespeare' Violates Conventions; Author Limbacher

Probably the most unusual production to be presented on the campus this semester will be the forthcoming student musical, "Swing It, Shakespeare."

According to author James Limbacher, the play violates many of the conventions of musical production. The overture will not be heard until after the first act has opened and the orchestra will have no violin section. The costumes, the first to be student-made, will be black and white but will appear in color due to special lighting effects.

The story itself is unusual. It is a satire on William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" and gives a behind-the-scenes view of the preparations that go into the staging of a play. In the opening scene, members of the cast will be seen putting on their make-up.

Book and lyrics were written by James Limbacher, author of the 1949 student musical, "Barbara of Seville." The music was composed by Mr. Limbacher and Dave Nizny, sophomore music major who directed the orchestra for last year's musical, "Love Goes to College." Nizny will also direct the orchestra for this year's production.

Four dance numbers in the production will be staged by Eugenia Sutton, a member of the Dance Club. They are: "The Sailor's Hornpipe," "The Twelfth Night Waltz," "The Wedding Polka," and "We Love to Live in Illyria."

In control of the production is the student faculty committee, composed of three faculty members with musical experience and six students who have appeared in at least one musical play. The present faculty members are: James Limbacher, chairman; Miss Ann Marley, music department, who has appeared as accompanist with the professional Graf Ballet; and Dr. Ferrel Atkins, mathematics department, who has appeared with the Louisville Municipal Opera Company.

Application for these grants should be made immediately to the Institute, 2 West 45th St., New York, New York. They must be filed, on forms to be secured from the U. S. Student Program of the Institute of International Education, not later than October 15, 1951.

Encouraging applications from interested students, Mr. Kenneth Holland, president of the institute, said that the fellowships are offered as a gesture of goodwill to the U. S. from Mexico.

The grants which cover tuition plus a monthly living allowance, are offered by the Mexican government through the Mexican-United States Commission on Cultural Cooperation.

Individual Junior Pictures, New Layout, Key Changes

This year's Key will feature many changes including individual junior pictures and a revision of general layout, promised Editor Howard Hahn.

Because of the drop in Bowling Green's enrollment and the cut in the budget, the Key had to be reduced in size, in order to prevent a rise in price. This year's book will consist of 304 pages as compared to 336 of last year, a cut of 32 pages. Despite this, complete coverage is planned.

Not since the 1946 Key have individual junior pictures been featured. The freshmen and sophomores will undergo a change, in their setting. The freshmen will have their pictures taken on the Ad Bldg. steps and the sophomores on the steps of the Men's Gym.

Complete departmentalization is another new feature of the yearbook. All pictures of organizations, honoraries, faculty, etc. belonging to one department will be grouped together with department copy running in a continuous story form. In addition to this the dream girl, sweetheart, etc. pictures will be shown on the page of the fraternity which chose them.

The seniors' activities will not be written next to their pictures but in a separate section which follows them. On each page of this senior section will be a picture of some view of the campus. A special section on off-campus activities will also be included.

Anyone wishing to purchase '51 Keys for $4 may do so in the Key office.

Cage Schedule Released; Thirteen Games Here

Durig Leads Falcons In 23-13 Victory

By Bill Greenhill

Fred Durig, BG's 195-pound fullback, racked up 170 yards rushing last Saturday as he led the Falcons to a 23-13 win over the Battling Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan.

Nearly 4,000 fans watched the Falcons outplay the Bishops in every department except one. Sharing the limelight of the game with Durig is Jim Ladd and Ollie Glass.

Ladd, in his first intercollegiate game, snagged 2 touchdown passes from Rex Simonds, one of them going for 25 yards. Ollie Glass pulled the play of the game though. With about two minutes to go the Falcons were on the Wesleyan 8-yard line. A penalty set BG back to the 13 and the Falcons lined up for a field goal attempt. The pass from center was wobbly and eluded Rex Simonds who was to hold for Glass's attempt. But, Glass picked up the ball, paused for a moment and then dropkicked between the uprights for three points. The stocky center who played most of the game was mobbed by his teammates as he came off the field.

Larry Schreck, BG freshman, set up the first BG tally when he intercepted a Bishop pass at mid-field and ran it back to the OWU 25. Simonds then heaved to Jim Ladd in the end zone for the score. Glass's try for the extra point was good.

However, the Falcons rooters had hardly settled back in their seats when Dwight McMahon, OWU halfback scooted for 64 yards and a TD less than a minute later. John Vossers converted and the quarter ended with the score tied up 7 all.

The second Bowling Green score came late in the half when Simonds hit Ladd with a fourth down pass attempt which was good. The conversion attempt was blocked.

Ohio Wesleyan tallied again midway in the fourth period when Hayden Buckley, who was by far the outstanding OWU player, hit Dale Bruce from 30 yards out. Bruce took the heave on the 10 and went over standing up.

Bowling Green's third touchdown came after the Falcons had driven down to the Bishop 37. Simonds handed the ball off to Durig and the Mansfield star scooted the rest of the way.

All was relatively quiet then until Glass's spectacular kick toward the end of the game. The kick made the score 23-13 and that's the way it ended.

Laurals for the game have to go to Durig though. Last year as a sophomore he picked up 270 yards for 50 tries. Saturday he made 170 yards from scrimmage. Whenever the BG attack would bog down Simonds would give the ball to Durig and he would rip off the required yardage and then some.

The BG pass defense was more than adequate during the game. One of the sorepoints last year, it looks as though it will be more than enough to halt opponents' at-

Feshman Women to Attend WRA Mixer

The Woman's Recreation Association invites all freshman women and transfer students to a mixer tomorrow evening at 7 p. m. in the north end of the Woman's Gym. Skits will be presented introducing the activities of all clubs and intramurals. Refreshments will be served.

All old members of the WRA will act as hostesses for the evening. Phyllis Jones, president of WRA is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Betty Thomas who is vice-president of the group, Jane Abbey, publicity chairman; Gerry Neff, recording secretary; Ica Mae Huebner, corresponding secretary; Pat Daugert, treasurer; Ann Nelson, historian and Carol Greve, social chairman.

Something new is here! On Monday and Wednesday at 4 p. m. speedball will be played as a part of the intramural program. It is not necessary to know how to play. You will be shown how. The first speedball organization meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 in the north gym of the Woman's Building.

All members of the WRA are requested to pay their dues of $1.00 to Pat Daugert from 9:00-4:00 p. m. in the main hall of the Woman's Building. Deadline to pay dues is this Friday.

Last year the Falcons intercepted only 12 of their foe's passes in nine games. Saturday they picked off four.

This Saturday, the Falcons must pay a little visit to Miami University to engage the Redskins. Last year the 'Skins drubbed the Falcons 54-6 but with the BG team as improved as it is, it should be quite a battle.

Several Teams Here For First Time Falcons To Make Southern Trip

By BILL GREENHILL

The Falcon's basketball season will open Saturday, December 1, here at Bowling Green with Gustavus Adolphus providing the competition. According to the schedule which was released yesterday The Falcons will play 26 games, half of them home contests.

Harold Anderson, who missed half of last season due to illness, is back at the helm, and he will have George Muellich aiding him. Muellich took over last year after Andy was forced to quit for the remainder of the season.

Highlights of the season will include appearances at Bowling Green by such teams as Niagara, Duquesne, Loyola of Chicago, Dayton, Western Kentucky and Hamline, the NAIB champions. Between semesters the cagers will tour the south playing North Carolina State, Stetson at DeLand, Fla.; University of Miami and Loyola of the South at New Orleans.

Also, for the first time since relations were resumed in 1948 Toledo University will appear on the Bowling Green court. Before this BG's home game with the Rockets was played in the Sports Arena.

The cagers will make no more than one appearance in any major arena this year if at all. There is a possibility that the Dartmouth game might be played in the Toledo Sports Arena.

Dean Ralph G. Harshman, chairman of the university athletic committee, declared that Bowling Green was complying with the NCAA recommendation that all college contests be played on college campuses or in off-campus places that are under close supervision of the respective school authorities.

The Falcon cagers will tangle with four Mid-America foes during the coming season. Toledo, Miami, Kent and Ohio U all will be BG foes.

The southern trip will be the first such trip the Falcons have ever embarked on. Two years ago they went to the west coast and shattered a couple of records. A year ago this summer they traveled through South America on a goodwill tour sponsored by the United States State Department.

Yackey, Beck Lost To Falcon Cagers

Two of Bowling Green's deadliest cagers—George Beck and Clarence Yackey—will be lost for the coming 1951 and '52 basketball campaign because of draft induction.

Beck is now serving in the U. S. Army while Yackey is yet uncertain when he is to report.

Last year "Boom Boom" Beck was one of the key men in many of the Falcon's victories. The 6'2" forward from Akron was ranked ninth in the nation for his field goal average of 45 per cent. His free throwing average of .788 was twenty-first in the nation. He was regarded as one of the best shots on the team and his deadly jump shot was a terror to many opposing teams. The husky blond was unbeatable on defense, breaking up many plays.

Beck's teammate, Clarence Yackey, was also a key figure in many victories for the Falcons. The 6'5" 225-pound cager was considered the "workhorse" of the team both on offense and defense. "Gig Yack" was not only great in basketball but was a standout in track with the shot put. These two sports enabled Yackey to be voted the outstanding athlete of the year by the B-G NEWS.

With the loss of these two stars, Coach Harold Anderson's 1951-52 and basketball squad will be hurt considerably.

By Shirley Good and Pat Osborn

The Alpha Xi's and Gamma Phi's are recovering from the Cleveland Browns; the Alpha Phi's are washing the footprints of music conventionists off their dining room walls, and in general the campus is getting back into the swing of things after the summer vacation.

One of the first parties of the season was a Blue Light party given by the Delta Tau Delta's Saturday night for their dates.

Chi Omega alums sponsored a tea for President and Mrs. McDonald at the Chi O house Sunday night.

The new addition to the Sigma Chi House has been set aside as the "Sweetheart Room," in honor of all Sweethearts of Sigma Chi, past and present. The room will be decorated with pictures of the Sig sweethearts.

A new rug has taken the place of Idget, Sigma Nu mascot, this year. It shouldn't happen to a dog!

Betty Kos, Gamma Phi Beta from Bowling Green, has received a sorority scholarship to Ohio State University. She is serving as director of the newly organized Gamma Phi Beta chapter there.

It had to happen sometime! A Bowling Green professor sighted a flying saucer above the P. A. Tower heading toward sorority row.

Several fraternities and sororities have new members transferred from other colleges. Jack Harwood, Delta Tau Delta, transferred here from Hillsdale College; Kay Porteous, Alpha Xi Delta, from Syracuse University; Shannon Meeker, Alpha Xi, Ohio University; and Esther Walpert, Alpha Gamma Delta, from Baldwin-Wallace.

Alpha Delta Pi and Alpha Phi entertained Newman Club speakers for dinner last evening in their houses.

Several national officers of Delta Tau Delta visited Bowling Green's chapter last weekend. Mr. Gordon Jones, assistant executive vice president and editor of the fraternity magazine, "Rainbow," will be here until tomorrow.

Freshmen take heart! It also happens to professors. A member of the faculty walked into class last week, read off several class cards, and when he received no response, realized he had gotten into the wrong class room.

Alpha Delta Epsilon's officers for 1951-52 are Edi Steinberg, president; Beverly Bergner, vice president; Barbara Hoffman, corresponding secretary; Lila Lesnick, recording secretary; and Marilyn Silver, treasurer. The sorority is living in a wing of Urschel Hall.

Two national officers visited the Bowling Green chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Share have a new baby girl. Chuck is the former BG basketball star and a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Mrs. Share, nee Rose Bender, is a Delta Gamma.

If anyone has wondered what became of Puddles, Delta mascot, he has been visiting one of the member's homes in Michigan. His return is promised by Homecoming.

Magazines Offer Trips And Prizes In New Contest

A chance to go to New York or Paris are among the prizes offered by national magazines in their competitions for college women this year. The competitions are Vogue magazine's Prix de Paris, and Mademoiselle's College Board contest.

Entrance in the former contest is limited to senior university women, while Mademoiselle's College Board allows any undergraduate college woman to compete.

Prizes awarded in Vogue's Prix de Paris include a year's job with Vogue magazine, six months in New York, and six months in Paris. Second prize in the contest is a six month's job in New York. Winners of Mademoiselle's contest are offered a month's guest editorship in New York. The August issue of Mademoiselle is traditionally edited by College Board Members.

In the past, several Bowling Green students have served on Mademoiselle's Board, although none have won the coveted trip to New York.

Members of the College Board are chosen by an article which they write criticizing the August issue. Those chosen for the Board are then given three other assignments to complete during the year. The best of these assignments are given money prizes, and also determine the twenty women who are chosen to go to New York.

Entrants in Vogue's Prix de Paris also complete three assignments during the year. From the best of these a number are chosen to write a thesis. Some of the thesis winners are given the Paris and New York jobs, and others are given help in finding jobs.

More information and entry blanks to these contests are available in current issues of these publications.

Theta Chi's Honor Typical Freshmen As King And Queen

The fourth annual Theta Chi Beanie Brawl featured a new kind of king and queen. The most typical freshman couple was chosen from 800 couples at the dance.

Betty Jane Kelley of Norfolk, Va., and Don Jenkins from Amherst, O. were awarded permanent gold loving cups. Judges of the couples were Theta Chi faculty advisers. This addition will become an annual event.

Music for the dance was provided by the Autumnairs, playing for their first time on campus. The group is led by Chuck Jones and Ted Wertz and is composed of 11 Bowling Green students.

Following the dance, an open house was held at the Theta Chi house for all those who attended the dance.

New Policy Set In Movies; Campus Film List Published

A new policy for showing campus movies has been established to insure a larger seating capacity and make possible a better selection of films.

Movies will be shown only in the Main Aud., and no weekend movies will be shown if some other activity is scheduled there.

An unusual assortment of foreign and American films has been chosen, and for the first time at the university the pictures are integrated with the curriculum.

Universal-International, J. Arthur Rank, Columbia, United Artists, and other companies are presenting such films as "Bagdad," with Maureen O'Hara; "The Moon and the Sixpence," a story by Somerset Maugham; "Pygmalion," a George Bernard Shaw comedy; "Stairway to Heaven," an English film; "The Roosevelt Story," a documentary on the late President; "Great Expectations," the Charles Dickens' classic, and many others. Of the 39 films to be shown during the 1951-52 school year, 10 will be in color.

All movies shown on campus are non-theatrical pictures which are at least two years old.

Students must present their activity cards, and airmen must show their Air Force cards in order to be admitted. If a student is expecting a guest for the weekend, he should obtain a guest card in Dean Currier's office before Saturday noon.

Guest cards will admit the holder to campus movies and all campus dances. Members of the faculty are invited to the campus movies, but faculty children must be accompanied by their parents. Movies this year were chosen for the first time by a student committee of which James Limbacher is chairman. A list of coming attractions for the year's movies, as well as other events to take place in the Main Aud., has been posted by the Social Committee in all campus dormitories.

Movies will be shown on Friday and Saturday evenings at 7 and 9 p. m.
